BVERY DAY THIS AMOUNT CONTINUES TO BE DUMPED INTO THE SEA TO DRIFT ASHORE. It is not apparent at this time just what redress the dwellers along Long Island and New-Jersey shores have against the officials of this city who are responsible for the deflement of their beaches which is now going on. The Supervisor of the Harbor, Lieutenant Parker, has merely granted permission for dumping the decayed and condemned fruit into the sea below Sandy Hook. He is not the man who is responsible for the nuisance. The fruit has to be taken out of the city in some The men who are responsible for this unnitigated nulsance are the men who promised that it should not recur, but who have not kept their

Colonel Waring said yesterday that complaints were received every day concerning the disgusting things that the flood tide and the southerly winds brought ashore, but he declared that at present there was nothing to be done except to go on dumping the decayed fruit at sea. This is exactly the state of affairs that was feared last fall and winter, but the people were assured that their fears were groundless. So the barges will go merrily on dumping 100 tons a day of decayed or decaying vegetable matter into the sea, and the people will have to stand it apparently for the rest of the season. But they are likely to remember it a long time.
